Since opening their first single basement store in Sydney's Pitt Street in 1924, Woolworths has grown into a household name with a presence in almost every metropolitan and regional centre in Australia and New Zealand. They began operating fresh food stores 60 years ago when advances in refrigeration technology revolutionized transport and storage. In 2010 Woolworth's celebrated their 86th year in the retailing business.

Woolworths also incorporates several other brand names. In Echuca Big W, Woolworths Safeway supermarket, and Dan Murphy's are part of the Woolworth's family.
